

TAVERN SHRUB GLASS

This is a hand blown reproduction of a commonly used 18th Century shrub glass. Colonists would wind down their day with a variety of shrub drinks.

TAVERN SHRUB GLASS

This is a hand blown reproduction of a commonly used 18th Century shrub glass. Colonists would wind down their day with a variety of shrub drinks.

TAVERN SHRUB GLASS

This is a hand blown reproduction of a commonly used 18th Century shrub glass. Colonists would wind down their day with a variety of shrub drinks.

TAVERN SHRUB GLASS

This is a hand blown reproduction of a commonly used 18th Century shrub glass. Colonists would wind down their day with a variety of shrub drinks.

TAVERN SHRUB GLASS

This is a hand blown reproduction of a commonly used 18th Century shrub glass. Colonists would wind down their day with a variety of shrub drinks.

TAVERN SHRUB GLASS

This is a hand blown reproduction of a commonly used 18th Century shrub glass. Colonists would wind down their day with a variety of shrub drinks.

TAVERN SHRUB GLASS

This is a hand blown reproduction of a commonly used 18th Century shrub glass. Colonists would wind down their day with a variety of shrub drinks.

TAVERN SHRUB GLASS

This is a hand blown reproduction of a commonly used 18th Century shrub glass. Colonists would wind down their day with a variety of shrub drinks.

TAVERN SHRUB GLASS

This is a hand blown reproduction of a commonly used 18th Century shrub glass. Colonists would wind down their day with a variety of shrub drinks.